

At Copper Consultancy, we offer tailored advice across communications disciplines, drawing on our expertise in challenging and time-pressured sectors.

A specialist team

We use insight from multi-disciplinary backgrounds to build the profiles and influence of our clients across media, public and political audiences.

Copper's outcomes-based approach enables clients to achieve their goals, while minimising reputational and political risks for organisations operating in challenging and competitive environments.

For more information, please contact:

James Gore
Director – Economic Development
James.Gore@copperconsultancy.com
07935 755272

